Dear Mr. M'Kim;

Being in Boston last week I selected for y^r. office a variety of publications, packed them in a stout box, and on Friday it went (I presume) to the Phil^a-Steamer, by which you sh^d receive it in a few days. I annex a list of titles, with quantities sent, which is correct in the main; some few may not be included in the list.

- I was glad to notice, by reports of your Ann^t: Meetg., that you had a good amount of publications there. -

You had eno['] opposition at your meeting to make it lively, and friend C. Darlington seems Garrison is still poorly — couldn't go to Weymouth to speak at annual st. S. festival there, tho' he had engaged to go. He seems much weaker. — I seem to be slowly gaining a little power to work again.

to have come down handsomely in his ^{his} adhesion of the character of the Repub. party, after his motion on the subject was fairly defeated. Crozier I don't know, he is one of that sort of men, I judge, whom I dislike to meet, or hear - egotistical, and believing the Gerrit Smith doctrine of the Constitution the totality of wisdom and righteousness; there is "more hope of a" — slaveholder — than of such a man.

What a sincere, true-hearted, transparent soul Purvis is!
Often times it happens that these strong, ardent words, which the speaker himself "regrets" afterward (& perhaps makes himself almost miserable about) are the very blows which tell, & which do the work. Sincere regards to the family Yours, Mr. S. May Jr.

Yankee, rigmarole for Edward. He has been engaged in business at Saigon in Cochin China, a new port opened by the French; but the disturbances there have so interrupted business that we think it must take him soon.
